Adulation By Elisa Lorello

Celebrity screenwriter Danny Masters has the world at his feet. He's dating a movie-star bombshell and his latest screenplay is a shoe-in for an Oscar. But he's empty.

With few accomplishments to her credit, longtime bookstore employee Sunny Smith celebrates her fortieth birthday by setting forty goals for herself. Sleeping with her writing idol, Danny Masters, makes the list.

At the premiere of Danny's new film, the two have a brief but enchanting exchange outside the theater. And after Danny insults the audience during the post-screening Q&A session, he's thrilled to see Sunny in his autograph line. But as he gently takes her hand, Sunny spits Danny's insults back at him.

The next day, to her horror, Sunny discovers a video of her tirade has gone viral. Instead of being angry, Danny is more determined than ever to find Sunny—and apologize. And once their lives intersect again, there'll be no turning back.

Editorial Review

From Publishers Weekly

Sunny Smith, a pretty 40-year-old bookstore employee, realizes that she has little to show for her years, despite loving what she does and adoring her two best friends. Across the country, Danny Masters, a revered and popular screenwriter, is also facing a life crisis. Although his scripts have become huge hits, he continues to question his talent and wonder whether his on/off relationship with a beautiful actress is real. As a lifelong Danny Masters fan, Sunny is overwhelmed when her friends surprise her with a ticket to his latest movie's premiere and an opportunity to actually meet her hero. But the occasion doesn't go according to plan, and both Sunny and Danny must re-evaluate their values, their fears, and their inexplicably passionate feeling for each other. Alternating narration keeps the story lively, while the protagonists' authentic struggles and aspirations will keep readers rooting for them until the last page.

Sunny Smith is turning 40, and not in a good way. She's still smarting over her divorce and managing the same stockroom in a failing chain bookstore. She still hasn't published any of her novels, and she still has a huge, hopeless crush on hunky celebrity screenwriter Danny Masters. When her two best friends surprise her with a birthday makeover and a trip to attend a Q&A with Danny about his upcoming film, Sunny is delighted to discover her connection with him is more than just a daydream. Until he grievously offends her. Then it's jaded Danny who can't get articulate, pretty Sunny out of his mind. Despite his successful career and bombshell actress girlfriend, Danny is sick of Hollywood. He wants something more real for himself and his teenage daughter—but he'll have to sacrifice his ego to get it. Lorello, a native Long Islander like both Danny and Sunny, gives her readers the gift of two hilarious yet grounded protagonists, whose romance lends truth to what people say about love: “sometimes you just know.” — Amber Peckham
