Scripture Alone: The Evangelical Doctrine By R. C. Sproul

In the twentieth century, the doctrine of Scripture became a particular focus of intense criticism. Some of R. C. Sproul's most significant writings have been on the doctrine of Scripture. Not all this material is in print, and no volume has ever collected his best writings on this pivotal doctrine. Scripture Alone consists of four chapters that originally appeared in symposium volumes edited by others and the author's commentary on the Chicago Statement on Biblical Inerrancy. These writings constitute an important restatement of the evangelical doctrine of Scripture. Scripture Alone will help all Christians to stand firm in defense of the truth.

Editorial Review

Review

"Few evangelical leaders in the last half-century have contributed as much to our appreciation of both the message of Scripture and the nature of Scripture itself. I'm glad to be among that throng and am delighted to see R. C. Sproul's insights on Scripture collected in this marvelous volume." -- Michael Horton "Professor of Theology and Apologetics, Westminster Seminary California"

"Complete confidence in the Bible as the inerrant, infallible Word of God is essential to the very life of the evangelical church. In Scripture Alone R. C. Sproul offers a full defense of the Reformation doctrine of Scripture. An ideal resource for understanding why we should believe what the Bible says about its own inspiration and authority." -- Philip Graham Ryken "Senior Minister, Tenth Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia"
